'DIZ' DEAN, BAN LIFTED

HIGH COURT'S DELAY HIT BY ROOSEVELT

By GEORGE DUNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Washington, June 4.—Again emphasizing its determination to press for a showdown on court reorganization at this session of Congress, President Roosevelt today criticized the Supreme Court for taking a four months' summer recess without having handed down important decisions in the TVA, PWA and SEC cases.

The President pointed out that the court could, it is desired, all in the summer for a special term. The public is most anxious, he said, for decisions in the cases still pending, but it now appears a delay of anywhere from six months to more than a year is in prospect.

Discussing the situation generally, at his press conference, Mr. Roosevelt declared he was drawn into a discussion of compromise or amendments. He said he was looking at the forest, not the trees.

READS STATUTE
The high court's failure to pass on its case before retiring, the President said, means that the President must read the statute governing sessions of the Supreme Court, and states the court shall hold one term annually running from October to June, unless circumstances warrant otherwise.

The President further criticized the court's failure to pass on its case before retiring.

B's Claim English From Detroit Club

Detroit, June 4.—Gibbert English, coach of the Tigers, was claimed by the Boston Braves today, it was announced by Detroit officials. English, a right-handed batter and fielder, is 29 years old and batted .236 for Tigers last year.

It is expected that Gill will be used to plug the infield gap in the Boston lineup.

Roosevelt Says '37 Plans Complete

Washington, June 4.—President Roosevelt offered what he called a "real piece of news" to Congress at his press conference today.

He said he had no more ideas on legislative proposals in preparation and that the Administration program for the year was complete.

Still Ired, Plans Landis Appeal

New York, June 4 (AP)—Despite Dizzy Dean's continued refusal today formally to sign any statement backing up his verbal denials of alleged controversial statements, the suspension of the Cardinal pitching ace was ordered lifted by Ford Frick, president of the National League, effective within 24 hours.

Frick announced lifting of the ban under which he put Dean two days ago as an outgrowth of purported attacks by the pitcher on the league's chief executive and Umpire George Barr, after a change conference at league headquarters.

DIZ WALKS OUT, RETURNS
Dean walked out of the meeting at 10 A. P. M., at one time, declaring he was "all washed up," then was persuaded to return for another compromise attempt at settlement of the dispute.

This consisted of a question and answer parley between Frick and Dean, with the pitcher flatly denying he made the critical statements.

Girl 'Looper' and Two Plunge 40 Ft., Unhurt

(Picture on Page 2)
By a freak of fate, two youths and a girl, all residents of Charlestown, escaped death today when they took a 40-foot plunge in a stolen automobile off Prison Point bridge.

The speeding car tipped over a 24-foot section of the bridge rail before it hurled down in the railroad tracks and landing side-wise was wrecked. A gas light pole beside the track was tipped at the base.

Police, notified of the accident by a guard at state prison, arrived in the railroad yard in time to take into custody a girl who gave the name of Miss Alice Bush, 23, of Cottage street, and a youth who said he was Joseph Brown, 21, of Green street, both Charlestown.

GIRL DAZED AND BRUISED
The girl was dazed, bruised and swollen, but otherwise unhurt, police said, while Brown appeared to have been unhurt.

A short time later, William Sullivan, 15, of Washington street, Charlestown, was arrested as the alleged driver of the car which had been stolen from John P. Fritoli of Warren street, Charlestown.

In Charlestown court, Sullivan pleaded guilty to larceny of an automobile, using an automobile without authority, operating while not a license and leaving the scene of an accident. He pleaded not guilty to operating as to no dupe.

UNDER SUSPENDED SENTENCE
The girl was charged with drunkenness, but the case was filed when a Maiden probation officer told the court Miss Bush had received a suspended sentence to Sherborn reformatory. The girl was surrendered to Maiden.

Edward, charged with larceny of an automobile and using an automobile without authority, pleaded not guilty. He and Sullivan were held in $500 each for trial June 11.

DUKE, WALLY CHEERED IN VENICE

Venice, Italy, June 4 (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor rode down the Grand Canal of this Italian honeymoon "Niagara" today to the cheers of romantic Venetians.

The Windsors, speeding by train from their Chateau de Candé wedding to the "haunted" Austrian honeymoon castle of Wasseraillonburg, near Noetach, alighted from their special car and entered a motor launch.

They took the "between trains" excursion as guests of British Consul Allen Napier, who met them. They had three hours until the next train for Austria.

IN HIS SIXTIES
The duke seemed comfortably domesticated. When the train pulled in, he could be seen in the windows in blue and white striped shirtwaists.

He put on a brown coat and drove out before he alighted with the new duchess, who had added a small white straw hat to her blue traveling ensemble.

Edward waved the hat to a throng of applauding folk, most of them women, who had gathered at the station. The duchess waved her hand.

"Viva" and fluttering handkerchiefs came from the people on the bank of the beautiful canal. Earlier on the train they had their first honeymoon breakfast, which consisted of Chinese tea, toast, rolls and butter, jam and lemon.

At Milan, a throng of tourists—mostly American women with a scattering of English travelers—shouted a refrain of "Wally! Wally!" until Edward went to the window, waved, and then called his bride to his side.

POLICE LINE TRACKS
They arrived at Milan at noon and continued on the route for Wassenburg Castle.

Customs officers in green uniforms and plumed hats examined aboard the train at Wassenburg, Italy.

Military police laid the track. Attendants handed the customs officers the diplomatic passes for seven members of the Windsor entourage.

40 IN STATE POLICE SHIFTED BY KIRK

Within two hours of Public Safety Commissioner Kirk's orders for the most drastic shakeup in state police history today, Police Commissioner Timilty announced appointment of 26 new patrolmen to the Boston Police Department (Page 9)

In the biggest shakeup in the history of the State Police, 40 men were transferred today by Public Safety Commissioner Paul G. Kirk.

Thirty of those transferred are troopers and the rest are sergeants and lieutenants.

The entire personnel of the Lunenburg sub-station, where, according to Commissioner Kirk, the men had free ice cream from a roadside stand where a slot machine was operated, was cleaned out, the men being shifted to other parts of the state.

Several promotions were also made by Commissioner Kirk and a new position of inspector of troops was created.

Today's changes follow Kirk's report to Governor Hurley of alleged grafting in the department, the resignation of a lieutenant and corporal and suspension of a trooper.

That a drastic shakeup was to be made was revealed in the Boston Evening American exclusively earlier this week.

Lieutenant William V. Shumaker, commanding officer of Troop B, Northampton, was made the first inspector of troops for the entire department.

MILITARY INSPECTIONS
"He will be required to make regular inspections of all the troops, in military fashion, and at times will be accompanied by Lieutenant Edward J. Gully, department adjutant, Captain James F. Mahoney, executive officer, or Commissioner Kirk."

The inspection of troops will be a rotating system whereby the troop commanders will, from time to time, take turns inspecting the personnel, weapons and vehicles.

Sergeant George H. Thompson of Bedford was made a lieutenant and given command of Troop B, Bridgewater. He has been at general headquarters.

PRESIDENT RAPS HIGH COURT DELAY IN DEAL CASES

JUSTICES HIT FOR TAKING VACATION OF 4 MONTHS

The Supreme Court for not taking a "liberal" interest in activities of the lower courts where the government is concerned.

In general instances, notably the Aluminum case, the government is getting its way whatever the lower courts, the President declared.

This would be cured by legislation, the President asserted, but he pointed out there had been no suggestion from the high court that the situation be remedied.

The Supreme Court as one arm of the government, Mr. Roosevelt contended, should see that the government and the people get proper treatment in the lower courts.

ALUMINUM CASE CITED

He discussed the Aluminum case briefly. The government's efforts to institute an anti-monopoly suit have been blocked in the lower courts so that action may drag through the circuit court of appeal and up to the Supreme Court over a period of many months, or even years.

When a reporter asked about the number of judges he desired on the court, in view of compromise reports, the President told his questioner he was looking at seven.

Concerning his conference last night with Senate Majority Leader Robinson, the President said the Arkansas had made a statement covering that meeting in sufficient detail.

Robinson disclosed he might propose an amendment to the bill himself. But he declined to give any hint of the terms the administration will agree to until the amendment is introduced.

JUDGE PLAN SEEN

It was generally believed, however, that an increase of two judges instead of six will be proposed.

Flatly denying published reports that the court bill will be abandoned outright, Robinson said: "The measure will be proceeded with and it is expected that action will be taken on it during the present session."

"During the last few months some changes have occurred which have modified the situation, but there still exists a necessity for injection of new blood into the court."

Asked directly whether the administration would accept a compromise, Robinson said:

"I am not prepared to say that the measure will be abandoned outright, but only 'desirable and advantageous'."

Robinson emphasized this was not a list of "must" bills. He said he did not intend to suggest that the passage of any of these measures was "imperative," but only "desirable and advantageous."

promise. Senator Robinson said:

"Certainly some amendments will be suggested. You will have to wait till they come up. I might propose an amendment myself."

AFFECT OF COURT RULINGS

Recent Supreme Court decisions upholding New Deal legislation and Justice Van Devanter's retirement from the bench were held to have little if any possibility for enactment of the President's bill in its original form.

Until now the administration has refused to admit a compromise would be acceptable.

However, Robinson and other administration supporters in the Senate were believed to have counseled an orderly retreat to avert the danger of a complete rout. Several Senate votes were reported to have swung over to the opposition since Van Devanter's retirement.

DENIES CANDIDACY

Denying he was a candidate for the vacancy on the Supreme Court bench Robinson said the question of that appointment has not been discussed at his meeting with the President.

While reports of administration willingness to accept an increase of two judges instead of the six proposed originally by the President have persisted some time, Senator Robinson's statement was the first tangible evidence of capitulation by the President.

Senator Robinson stated that, aside from the provisions relating to the Supreme Court, the features of the bill affecting the federal judiciary in general are regarded by the President as of vital importance.

DISCUSSES LEGISLATION

The senator also discussed other legislation with the President, and disclosed the administration hopes the following measures will receive favorable consideration and final action at this session:

NAZI GUILLOTINE AMERICAN CITIZEN

Berlin, June 4 (AP)—Helmuth Hirsch, 35-year-old Jewish citizen of the United States, who has never been in America, was executed by a mechanical guillotine at dawn today for an alleged treasonable plot under the restrictive law.

It was learned on good authority that the charge, hitherto unproved to have been based on an alleged conspiracy to assassinate Adolf Hitler, was connected with accusations that Hirsch wanted to assassinate Hitler's brother, high Hitler aide and the Reich's leading Jew-baiter, Hermann Goebbels.

Hirsch was sentenced to death March 20 after a trial.

A 30-year-old German, Oscar Hirsch, was executed with Hirsch on the same charge of high treason.

Hirsch had expressed himself as resigned to his fate and expecting no mercy after his conviction by the people's court.

According to an official statement, Hirsch was sentenced to death because of his alleged participation in the German two internal machines for the purpose of "at the behest of treacherous elements abroad."

Both the machines were said to have been seized.

Hirsch was arrested last December 20 on his arrival from Czechoslovakia, where his father, Siegfried, still lives.

Helmuth's grandfather, Solomon Hirsch, was naturalized in New York in 1872. Siegfried died after living in the United States eight years, returned to Czechoslovakia where he had been born. Helmuth was born in Stuttgart, in southwestern Germany.

Because of the contagious character of the disease, Schofield's body was not taken to the Maiden Methodist Church for the funeral services at 2 p. m. though the Rev. Alexander Stewart read the service for both deceased.

Burial was in Forest Dale cemetery.

At least a dozen students went to their classes and refused to join the strike.

The teachers, all of whom had been employed for three years, were dropped Wednesday night at a meeting of the school committee.

They were Miss Marjorie E. Fox, William A. Bell and Howard C. Barr.

School Committee Chairman Edward J. McDermott declined to comment on the reason for the dismissal of the school committee.

Italian Princess Has Son

Rome, June 4 (AP)—The birth of a new grandson to King Vittorio Emanuele was announced today. His second daughter, the Princess Mafalda, wife of Prince Philip of Savoie, gave birth to the boy last night.

2 Cambridge Girls Missing After School Picnic

Distraught parents of two young Cambridge high school girls told police today they feared their daughters had been abducted 48 hours ago.

The girls, Hedwig Kowale, 11-year-old blonde, and Alice Michalewicz, 13-year-old brunette, were last seen at a class picnic at Spot Pond, Arlington, in company of two attractive young men.

Cambridge police asked state police to broadcast an alarm to pick up the girls, describing them as blonde and short and of swarthy complexion.

The missing girls are chums in the freshman class of Cambridge High and Latin school.

Eddy was graduated from St. Hedwig's parochial school in Cambridge last year and on Wednesday, when her grammar school class was having an outing, she persuaded Hedwig to accompany her.

Alice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Michalewicz of Seventh street and Hedwig the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kowale of Cambridge street, both of East Cambridge.

Police threw extra details into the district to work vigilance.

Eddy and Prior declared they had withdrawn their support of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

In addition to these, 800 workers were taken away on reports of rallies and meetings for driving after drinking, making a grand total of all persons who lost their driving rights due to drinking.

The record of deaths for the month of May was 44 as compared with 46 for the same month a year ago, the registrar commented. "This record is gratifying in view of the tremendous increase in registration and mileage this year."

The registrar announced or received a total of 114 licenses and registrations. Drunken driving convictions accounted for the loss of 600 licenses and registrations.

STEEL STRIKE PARLEY OPENS, 70,000 IDLE

A peace conference between the leader of the union forces and Ohio's Governor held the attention today of more than 70,000 idle workers on the fair-finding steel strike front.

Philip Murray, head of the steel workers' union, and Governor Mark A. Dewey of Ohio met in his terms for peace apparently precluded an immediate end of the nine-day dispute.

Murray declared the strike would continue until a union contract was signed. It was the refusal of the Inland and Republic Steel Corporations and the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company to sign an agreement on collective bargaining that led to the strike call.

Meanwhile, the S. W. O. C. took a new tack in its effort to close Republic Mills, and bring the company to terms. The union disclosed a campaign would be staged to unionize miners in the Michigan and Michigan Iron mines and shut off the source of raw materials.

Rep. Bernard, Minnesota farmer-laborer, was named director of the campaign.

At Detroit the Wayne County prosecutor's office requested a search for Harry Bennett, personal director of the S. W. O. C. Company who is wanted as a witness in a grand jury investigation of disorders involving members of the United Automobile Workers.

A summary also was issued for the appearance of Edsel Ford, company president.

Landlords in Pontiac, Mich., were being charged as "fair" or "unfair" in lists compiled by the U. A. W. and the S. W. O. C. "strike." Unionists attempting to maintain what they consider a fair rental lost their first court skirmish. A factory worker was fined $12.50 instead of $11 weekly for a four-hour absence.

At Canton, O., 6300 employees of the Timken Roller Bearing Company were idle and the plant gates picked up.

Two plants of the Chrysler Corporation, a "total" of 12,000 workers were shut today. Demand for filling of munitions men by union members caused the closing.

Some 6000 General Motors workers were idle today in Flint. Lack of supplies, caused by another strike was responsible.

A man died and several were injured during a strike at a Newberry, Mich., plant.

Elder, Ex-Secretary Deny Kissing Story

CLAIM NORTON WITHDREW CHARGE

STORY BRANDED "VICIOUS"

Vigorous denials of S. Allen Norton's testimony he peeped through a hole and saw them kissing in a Mt. Hermon School office back in 1930 were made today by Thomas E. Elder, ex-dean of the school held for the grand jury on a charge of murderous attack on Norton. His denial was backed up by his former secretary, Miss Evelyn Dill.

Though Elder did not "sneak" stand at his hearing in Greenfield district court and Miss Dill did not appear at the hearing at all, both made emphatic statements denying Norton's story told before Judge Philip H. Ball.

Elder left for White River Junction, Vt., to stay with friends until his case is presented to the jury sitting of the grand jury after examining the $1000 bond demanded by the court.

ELDER OPTIMISTIC

Greenfield was optimistic, he will declared that Norton's story was "a case of mistaken identity." He expressed himself as anxious to have the matter come to trial at an early date if the grand jury indicts him.

Located in Boston, Miss Dill, who was secretary to Elder when he was Norton's secretary on the staff of the exclusive Northfield school where Dr. Elliot Spear, headmaster, was murdered three years ago, came to be former employer's defense.

Referring to Norton's testimony he had spied on Elder through a "periscope" between adjoining offices and had seen him kiss his secretary, Miss Dill said:

"That is not so. Dean Elder was always a gentleman, never anything more than my employer, and not the type to take such advantage."

"Mr. Norton went to Dr. Cutter and reported he saw Dean Elder kissing me. Dr. Cutter came and conferred with me on the report and was satisfied with my denial."

"Otherwise, do you think I would have remained working at the school?"

"Mr. Norton subsequently came to me and apologized."

Elder was tense and positive in his denial.

his denial of Norton's charges. "He's wrong, he's mistaken," he said after the hearing.

He declared the preposterous story was an example of "viciousness" and said that Norton had withdrawn the charge "immediately after making it, 'getting down on his knees and praying for forgiveness for making the unjust charge'."

He said the testimony of two witnesses introduced by the state at the hearing was "very vague."

"Neither identified me or my car as being near or at the scene of the assault on Norton," he said.

"All I hope at this moment is that Mr. Charles Fairbank, my attorney, will procure for me a speedy trial so that I may have my day in court and that God give me strength enough to live to see that day when I can answer this and every other charge made against me."

Yesterday's two-hour hearing was featured by Norton's testimony and the vigorous cross-examination he underwent at the hands of Attorney Fairbank.

He admitted that in 1930 he due a hole in the plaster of his office and spied on Elder in the adjacent office. He admitted that he had reported what he had seen to Dr. Henry P. Cutter, then the Mt. Hermon school headmaster.

Later, he said, he met Dr. Cutter and Elder in Dr. Cutter's office and all three knelt and prayed for forgiveness over the incident. Norton unbelievably testified Elder as the man who accused him in his garage with a shotgun and threatened his life.

"He slipped out of the darkness and said: 'Norton, I want to talk to you.' The ex-scholar testified, 'Suddenly I saw that he had a gun. I ran into the house and shouted to Mrs. Norton. 'Tom Elder is out there with a shotgun.'"

Norton was only 20 feet away from Elder when he identified him in court, Elder testified actively and unperturbed.

Mrs. Edwin G. Weymouth, who lives two doors from Norton's Greenfield home, testified she had seen a car pass back and forth several times in front of Norton's home on the night in question. She said she heard a man's voice call out sharply and then heard the car race away.

Miss Yvonne Arsenault, maid in the house next door to Norton, testified she had seen a man standing in the Norton driveway with a gun in his hand.

Sold Unborn Baby BUT COURT CANCELS DEAL

Los Angeles, June 4 (AP)—A mother's plea for return of the baby daughter she "sold" before birth to her sister-in-law was answered today in a Superior Court decision.

Mrs. Marian Brown Beard, 28, was granted custody of her child, Nadene Gloria, who was taken from San Jose, Cal., by Mrs. Evelyn Brown, soon after birth.

Both women told juvenile officials they signed up and signed a contract, stipulating in return for payment of Mrs. Beard's hospital bills of approximately $200, Mrs. Brown would have the child.

Brown was in receipt of the baby, "I can't live without my baby now," the mother told Judge Goodwin J. Kutz.

Mrs. Brown screamed at deputy.

"You shan't take her!"

"The mother shall have her child, for the reason that the mother had no legal right to attempt to sell her unborn baby, and the other party was equally in error in attempting to purchase the child. The state of California has some control over its children."

Husband Meets Wife SAY "HOWDY" AFTER 12 YEARS

Syracuse, N. Y., June 4 (AP)—Dorothy Rogers, dropped into a florist's shop on Fifth avenue in New York. The woman behind the counter looked familiar. It was her mother.

Dorothy identified herself. The woman faintly.

Rogers went to New York, but today he was back alone.

"We just shook heads and he said, 'How are you?' and she said, 'All right, how are you?'"

Then Tedesco went his way Mrs. Tedesco hers.

Neither commented on the reason for the wife's 12-year absence.

Back in 1925 Rogers's wife left home one day ostensibly to call on a friend at a hospital. She did not come back. Rogers waited nine years and had his marriage dissolved. He had no idea where Mrs. Tedesco was.

Another three years passed, and one day Rogers's daughter, Mrs. Rogers, met her mother.

49 Health Hikers On Last 19 of 325-Mile Trek

Hart, N. Y., June 4 (AP)—Portified by a breakfast of orange juice and cracked wheat and cheered by the nearness of their goal, the 49 surviving hikers of Benares MacFadden's month hiking band early today left Cohobon for the 10-mile last lap of their New York to Davenport hike.

The party, which numbered 63 when it left New York May 22, completed the 26 miles from Campbell to Cohobon last night and returned here to stay overnight.

They took a bus for Cohobon at 8:45 a. m. today to strike out on the last lap of the 325-mile hike.

During the 12 days of hiking, the party covered an average of a little more than 25 miles a day.

Mrs. Ida Wolf, 56, of Detroit, said she was happy at reducing 12½ pounds. Victor Martel, 30, of New York, said he lost 17½ pounds.

X-Ray Bug Romance LOCUST LOVE CALL IN MOVIES

Rochester, N. Y., June 4 (AP)—Plans to take soft X-ray movies of the mechanism of the 17-year locust's sex call, the airmen screen which is the loudest noise in the insect world, were announced today.

When some of these cinémas appear next month, Harold F. Howard, of the Eastman Kodak Co., will use the new method of soft X-ray photography to take the first pictures of these insect bug drums in action.

It is expected to get details of this screaming apparatus' interior. The noise is made with aid of the insect's hollow abdomen, which he beats somewhat like a gorilla beating its chest.

The cinémas' "drum" is one of the most complicated in nature. Its sounding board is a tympanum set on the abdomen. The beating done by a vibrating muscle.

If entomologists could see the interior of this mechanism in action, they might think up some sort of spray which would stun the insects without at least muffle their drums.

Only the male makes the noise. It is its mating call.

The soft X-rays make shadows of tissues and liquids of living organisms. Their first use for motion pictures was announced three weeks ago in the Society of Motion Picture Engineers, who saw the pictures of a meal worm's digestive apparatus at work.

The dead man's son—former Naval Lieutenant Charles F. Kene, Jr.—told police the brief case was not his father's, yet from his widow they learned the sea strainer and a man's bag belonged to Kene's deceased sister.

NO WEAPON FOUND

Three .32-caliber bullets were discovered in Kene's vest. Relatives recalled he once owned this size pistol, yet no weapon was found in the strainer or elsewhere.

William H. Bowen, the steamer's night watchman, recalled that at about 1:45 o'clock on the night Kene disappeared, he heard a noise that might have been a shot. Still more strange—fishermen knowingly pointed to the knots in the ropes about Kene's body and said no one but a seaman would have tied them.

DEATH Mystery DEEPENS

RIVER CLUES CONFUSING

Washington, June 4 (AP)—Detectives reshuffled a batch of tangled clues trying to solve the mysterious river death of Charles F. Kene.

Delaying final acceptance of the murder verdict of a coroner's jury on Monday night, June 13, for so announced business trip in Norfolk, Va. When the boat docked, his cabin was top-heavy and not-tainted two blond stains. Kene was missing.

BULLET IN SKULL

Eighteen days later, fisherman Edward Smith, dragged Kene's body from the Maryland shore of the bay. A bullet was in the skull and eyes were tied about the neck and chest.

Dangling from the rope around the neck was a brief case containing an incongruous collection of such articles as an automobile jack, a silver tea strainer, a mechanic's hammer and a woman's mesh bag.

"He had been struck a terrific blow on the eye," said the 14-year-old son of Kene, "and he was struck at least three-quarters of an hour before he was killed."

A jury called it a case of murder before the sheriff in the sandbar of Crisfield, Md., had heard about the finding of the body.

Now, as officers gather together the evidence, all sorts of confusing details are cropping up among the clues.

The dead man's son—former Naval Lieutenant Charles F. Kene, Jr.—told police the brief case was not his father's, yet from his widow they learned the sea strainer and a man's bag belonged to Kene's deceased sister.

First Leg of Trip In 'Lung' Is Over

Shanghai, June 4 (AP)—Smiling bravely against the ordeal of a journey to Chicago in an "iron lung," Frederick B. Saito, Jr., 26-year-old paraplegic victim, today was wheeled into Shanghai General Hospital.

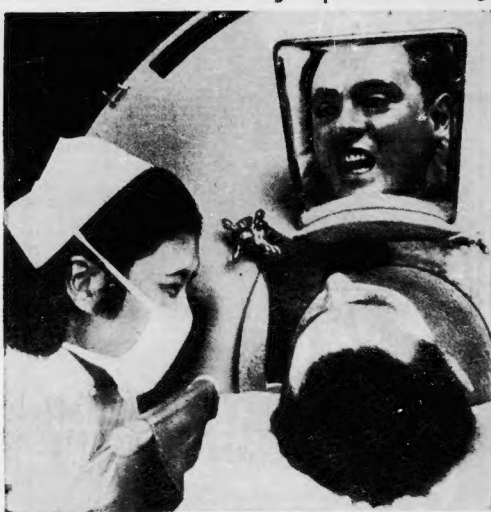

Completing the first leg of his 10,000-mile homeward trip from Peiping, the Chinese turned his eyes to his father, who was ever at his side during the train and automobile ride from Peiping, and whispered:

"I'm all right... I'm not afraid... I don't worry."

The most critical moment of the Peiping-Shanghai ride in the mechanical respirator came when the truck carrying him from the few blocks from the train to the Shanghai hospital bumped over rough streets.

But the vital machinery maintaining Saito's respiration never faltered.

Smiles at Ordeal of Long Trip In 'Iron Lung'

Faced with a 10,000-mile trip from Peiping, China, to Chicago in an "iron lung," Frederick B. Saito, Jr., 26, infantile paralysis victim, here up bravely and smiled when told of the ordeal ahead. He is shown here with a Chinese nurse who will accompany him on the voyage. He arrived today at Shanghai and will sail shortly for America. A mirror above the "lung" reflects his smiling countenance.

Better Weather Reports Seen as Aviation Need

Bares Great Lack Of Knowledge

On the eve of regular transatlantic airplane passenger service, Dr. James H. Kimball, weather expert, who has directed every ocean floor since Charles A. Lindbergh, giving them all the "go" signal when the clouds lifted, tells of some things that should be done before we launch such a service.

By W. W. CHAPLIN

New York, June 4 (U.S.)—The mysterious highways of the upper air should be placed under constant observation by expert staffs on a dozen anchored "weather ships" before regular transatlantic airplane service is begun, Dr. James H. Kimball warned today.

Dr. Kimball, head of the United States Weather Bureau here and adviser to every Atlantic flight since Lindbergh's, said in discussing the limitations of such service: "The key to the whole matter of scheduled Atlantic flight is placing of strategic points vessels for surface and upper air observations."

"Each vessel would also collect information from passing steamers, summarize all its information and send it to a central station for making a general map with deductions."

Kimball, a retiring man of scholarly appearance who has always shrank from accepting any of the glory reflected from the fame of the fliers he has guided across the ocean, hastened to add: "Of course this is not my idea. The navy used it for the NE flights and the Honolulu flights. It was used for the Hainan flights. And now the coast guard is doing something like that for Amelia Earhart's Pacific flight. "But I am personally satisfied that we should not attempt routine Atlantic airplane service with anything less than such a weather service."

Danger Unless Plan Developed

Dr. Kimball freely acknowledged that despite considerable progress in the science of meteorology during the past 10 years, it had been impossible to keep abreast of the advance in aviation.

At present all that can be done about forecasting upper ocean air is to take what is known of surface conditions and then apply what has been learned about the relation between surface and upper air conditions, Dr. Kimball said.

"We know next to nothing about the upper air over the ocean. Even with the exploratory operations by plane and balloon ashore we've hardly scratched the surface. We are just beginning to get a little tangible information as to what is going on aloft."

FRANCO NAMES 2 TO SUCCEED GEN. MOLA

Valencia, Spain, June 4 (AP)—Insurgent Spain was stunned today by the death of Gen. Mola, General Franco's ablest commander, in the crash of a top-bound airplane on the Ebro river from where his tactical genius had brought his armies within sight of besieged Bilbao.

Plans were half-masted throughout insurgent territory. Franco in a special decree posthumously awarded the commander of all the insurgent armies in northern Spain the Grand Cross of San Fernando, Spain's highest military honor.

Immediately after the death of the 48-year-old "soldier general" was known, Franco quit his former command.

General Fidel Dávila, head of the Junta of the Lower region, was named commander of the forces operating against Bilbao and on the Ebro river front. The Aragoz, the Sierra and the Madrid fronts were placed under General Andrés Salazar, who directed operations against Madrid under Mola.

The same league for which he had led up the advance of Mola's armies caused his death. Two staff officers and two pilots died with him. Despite protests, he left his staff in thick weather for Valencia.

100 Americans Working For Red Forces

Tarazona, Spain, June 4 (AP)—Tens of thousands of Americans worked today behind the Spanish government's front lines.

Dr. Edward Barsky of New York heads the American medical mission.

The Americans under Dr. Barsky came from nearly every section of the United States.

Dr. Barsky himself is on the Ebro front doing surgical work in an operating room on wheels which was built in France.

New Soviet Planes To Aid Spain Reds

Moscow, June 4 (AP)—The Komintern, third communist international, today ended its long-standing quarrel with the Spanish government and proposed a united front for action against German and Italian intervention in Spain.

The startling move is aimed to bury the hatchet and unify the communists, socialists and international league of labor unions.

France Arms Border Against Air Attacks

Perpignan, Franco-Spanish Frontier, June 4 (AP)—France armed her side of the Spanish border with anti-aircraft guns today to repel any attack by Spanish warplanes.

The step was taken after protests by authorities of the French city of Collioure when it was machine-gunned recently in a raid on government-held border positions.

Big Feet Problem For Shoe Stylists

It won't be long before Milady is filling her husband's shoes—literally. If the assertions of stylists at the closing session of the 18th annual Boston Shoe Fair are true.

Gathered in the Hotel Statler, the stylists all agreed that women's feet are fast approaching the proportions of men's feet, and that the demand for shoe styles and sizes is a common occurrence in just about every shoe store.

To counteract this blow to women's traditional slenderness, the stylists have created what they call the "Mitten" shoe, which makes a big foot look smaller.

The experts declared the beach scandal is all to blame. Women tramp about in open-work slippers that allow their feet to spread out in all directions, they said, and in a couple of years they don't wear shoes—they wear slippers.

Bridal Brings Death KILLS SELF AS BROTHER WEDS

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., June 4 (AP)—Brotherly affection that preferred death to separation was cited by Coroner Frederick G. Eaton today as the reason William Robbins, 23, shot himself 24 hours after the marriage of his brother, Francis.

Coroner Eaton said Robbins ended his life with a rifle in a haymow, leaving behind a note commenting on his brother's marriage to Miss Helen Hathaway.

"I hope Helen and Francis will have a happy time through life," the coroner said to the note declared. "I am not taking care of the chickens as I ought."

The Robbins brothers had been strongly attached to each other, the coroner said, since they were taken 10 years ago from a home near Buffalo and brought up by the family of Judge William Putnam here.

Emerson Confers A. B. Degrees

President Harry Seymour Ross of Emerson College will confer the Bachelor of Arts degree for the first time in the history of the college at Emerson's fifty-eighth commencement exercises on June 7.

The first graduate to receive the A.B. will be Miss Allen Hamilton of Wellesley, Mass., who was the first student to enroll as a candidate for this degree.

Part of this year's graduating class will receive the Bachelor of Arts degree and part the degree of Bachelor of Literary Interpretation (B.L.I.) as the college is now empowered by the Massachusetts Legislature to grant both degrees.

The commencement exercises will open on Saturday, June 5, with an alumni reunion and luncheon at Hotel Vendome at which President Ross' class, the class of 1907, will observe its fortieth anniversary, and the class of 1912 its twenty-fifth.

Dr. Russell H. Stafford, minister of the Old South Church, and chairman of Emerson's board of trustees, will deliver the commencement address. The commencement play is to be "Barclay Square."

Reverse Decision On Water Rights

Reversing the decision of the federal district court, the United States Court of Appeals today denied the American Writing Paper Company unlimited use of water from the Connecticut river.

Suiting in a suit brought by the Holyoke Water Power Company, the court declared the implied grant of "unlimited" rights claimed by the paper company, did not include the right to unlimited use of water for processing paper. The district court was ordered to reconsider the case.

CHAPTER 25

"You see," he explained, patiently, "I need it just now. Maybe you'd rather sell it to me, and then put your money into another car later?"

"I could easily pick up something for $150—something good," Ed said.

"Either way you like," Mr. Wilson said. He kept his face straight.

Yet Mrs. Wilson talked contentedly about a tooth that "would have to come out when she could afford it," and Mr. Wilson, patiently pointed out that she should have been replaced.

The worst of it was that Ed would not let her go until she had made a daily search for a car.

What's the use of starting before you're ready? he thought. The car is so important to her. I must not let her go until she has a car.

Yet the husband's over-zealousness was not the only thing that worried Ed. He was a man of many parts, and he was not a man of many parts.

Slick New Fabric

UNLESS you're in on the secret, you'd never guess the workaday beginnings of the exciting fabric used in the frock.

You realize it's slickness of texture, a strange, stiff texture with a glossy sheen. You see it's almost gaily lightness that yet has enough body for crispness. But until you wear it, you can't imagine its heavenly coolness. With a new herringbone weave to give it distinction, it is yet the very fabric used for years and years to make summer office jackets for men—mohair.

You can just imagine how much musing it will take, how airy it is to wear, and how it tailors! For all this talk about practicality, the frock is flagrantly feminine—with its flare skirt, sleek bodice, extended shoulders and a roll collar of white finely striped with red. And for a last touch of frivolity, the little straw basket bonnet holds pink roses!

"Yes, I'd rather remember it this way," he said at last in answer to a low-voiced question of his father.

'Your Figure, Madame!'

THE HOLLYWOOD VENUS IS HEALTHY

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Copyright, 1937 King Feature Synd. Inc.

VENUS set the style for symmetry, the differences in her proportions remain the standard of beauty.

The divine waistline measured ten inches less than the bust, and the hips exceeded the bust by only two inches—and that's what we call symmetry.

Even Venus would have to prune her curves, however, to make the moves.

She may have been good enough for Titian—but not for the producers.

Dolores Del Rio, the Hollywood Venus, is the perfect example of this same symmetry on a streaming scale.

Miss Del Rio is five feet three and one-half inches tall, weighs 115 pounds and measures 34 inches waist, 24 inches bust, 34 inches hips and 34 inches legs.

This star's slender figure is a result of what has been done for her by the producers.

In fact, I find a very good explanation of the "perfect" youth and loveliness which mark among the screen stars. They like to be thin.

They like to be thin, for without beauty, beauty cannot last.

ADVICE on LOVE and MARRIAGE -- By Beatrice Fairfax

Divorce Seldom the Way To Happiness for Mature Woman

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
A scrap of paper gives complete freedom. It really compensates for all the things she gives her.

Women, even the best of them, often spend an amount of time day-dreaming over freedom. One of a dozen things may send them off on a mental excursion, from which they awaken with a start to see there is just time to put on the dressing and the chops for dinner.

For mental processes are not always and reality is not always with "wish fulfillment." That, with vague ideas of freedom in the head, is the first step to a divorce. It is a very real, practical thing, and who has the right to give it? It is not a matter of a degree of freedom, but a matter of a degree of responsibility. If I am a mother, I must be responsible for the child. If I am a wife, I must be responsible for the husband. If I am a citizen, I must be responsible for the community. If I am a human being, I must be responsible for myself.

It is not a matter of a degree of freedom, but a matter of a degree of responsibility. If I am a mother, I must be responsible for the child. If I am a wife, I must be responsible for the husband. If I am a citizen, I must be responsible for the community. If I am a human being, I must be responsible for myself.

No-Shine Lotion Is Hot Weather 'Must'

By ARLINE GOULD

MELANCHOLY beauties have no place in the world's scheme of things today. They belong to the past--when poets wrote about "tears like dewdrops on the rose," and all that sort of thing.

No woman ever looks beautiful when she weeps--or when she has a red or shiny nose. And it is all very discouraging, because those who are not easily subdued, and when I told my girl friend that I was not a "cry-baby," she broke out in a little attempt to put a dam on the tears. With the fragile, delicate pink and white complexion that women are so romantically striving for this year, shiny nose and forehead are strictly taboo.

If your nose is a naturally shiny one (and you are not using any face cream or powder), the thing to do is get down to bed rock and find the cause. It is caused by overactive glands, your diet is probably at fault.

A diet containing too much fat or starch or sweet foods, or too much of a hard working man needs only a teaspoonful of fat a day, but girls who eat pastries and pies and all the dainties get much more than that.

This summer, as never before, non-shine preparations are a hot weather "must." If you've never heard of a very special preparation that actually banishes the shimmering shine from the face, it is high time you did. It is a cologne, odorless liquid, and you simply apply a few drops with the tips of the fingers, and smooth into the skin.

Before it is quite dry, press powder over it. Result: A smooth, matt finish that lasts for hours and hours.

It is not expensive and it is one of the very special loves of a famous Fifth Avenue salon. While it won't stop sebum glands from acting up like generals, it does keep the skin from shining. It's the best insurance against shiny nose we know of and is perfectly harmless, even to the most sensitive skin.

To learn the name of the machine preparation, call Arline Gould, Liberty Avenue, weekdays until 5, or write her at the Boston Evening American, Pattern Department, 232 West 18th Street, New York, N. Y.

FROM A MATHA LEE'S FRIDAY MORNING BROADCAST OVER STATION WEEA
Word comes from Jacksonville, Texas, that National Tomato Week is being observed. Earlier this year a festival, commemorating the nation's tomato crop, was held.

We learned that 23 states of the nation produce tomatoes in commercial quantities, Texas ranking second only to California in total production.

This red "love apple" is most decorative as well as being a nourishing food. It is popular in many forms--juice, salad, stewed, baked, broiled, soup, relish, preserves and fried. Let us join in National Tomato Week by serving tomatoes in some form.

TOMATO "CESTIC"
Chill and peel tomatoes; hollow out and use the pulp chopped finely and mixed with cream or cottage cheese, seasoned with a little pepper and salt, for filling. Garnish on top with olive slices and pimientos. Serve very cold.

TOMATO JULY SALAD
1 tablespoon gelatin.
1 quart tomatoes, canned or fresh.
1 cup cold water.
2 or 3 slices onion.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1/2 teaspoon sugar.
1 tablespoon green pepper (chopped).
2 tablespoons celery (chopped).
1 cup cabbage, shredded.
Soak the gelatin in the cold water for 5 minutes. Put the tomatoes and onion for a minute strain through a fine sieve, put the hot tomato juice in a bowl and dissolve gelatin in it. Let it sit until it is dissolved. Add the salt and sugar, and chill. When the gelatin mixture is partly set, add the finely chopped vegetables, and mix well. Add more salt if needed. If the mixture is not tart enough, add a little lemon juice or vinegar. Pour into wet custard cups and place in a cold place until set, turn out on crisp lettuce leaves, and serve with sautéed dressing.

TOMATO GLOBE
Strain the following in a covered saucepan for several minutes, with 1/2 cup 1/2 cup celery, 1 small onion and 1 small green pepper--all cut into small squares. Add 1/2 cup tomato juice and 1/2 cup water for another two minutes, stirring slowly. Then add 8 cups of water or meatstock and cook for 15 minutes; next add 1/2 cup of peeled and cut up tomatoes, cooking for an additional 10 minutes, and season to taste.

Bridge A Silly Defense

By JOSEPHINE CLIBERTSON

Many players do not realize the implication of signal cards.

Probably every one of my readers has had the experience of watching eagerly for an echo that will advise the partner's ability to ruff a third round of a suit.

Few conventions are so standardized as the ruff and get 1 one, many better-than-average players are in the use of the ruff. Under today's hand, West should have ruffed.

West's hand: 4♠ 8♠ 7♠ 6♠ 5♠ 4♠ 3♠ 2♠ 1♠. North's hand: 4♥ 8♥ 7♥ 6♥ 5♥ 4♥ 3♥ 2♥ 1♥. South's hand: 4♦ 8♦ 7♦ 6♦ 5♦ 4♦ 3♦ 2♦ 1♦. East's hand: 4♣ 8♣ 7♣ 6♣ 5♣ 4♣ 3♣ 2♣ 1♣.

The bidding: West 1♠, North 2♠, East 3♠, South 4♠. West Pass, North Pass, East Pass, South Pass.

North's hand is a double of course, and a 1♠ ruff and his partner's 2♠ bid. West's hand is a double of course, and a 1♠ ruff and his partner's 2♠ bid. West's hand is a double of course, and a 1♠ ruff and his partner's 2♠ bid.

FRICK REINSTATES 'BIZZY' DEAN

AUSTEN LAKE

The Doctor Cautions Middle Age; Maxie's Moan And Bettor's Bleat

NO GROUP OF MEN, ON REACHING the age of 45, are so loath to recognize the first frost of physical autumn as those old varsity athletes who like to fancy themselves the same imperishable huskies as when they toted a football for old Rumpsteak U or hauled on a hoe handle for Subway Tech's crew.

Nothing astonishes the middle-aged ex-athletes more than the first twinge of infirmity.

To such men Dr. Harry Cahill, the Boston physician and old 49'er from Holy Cross, was speaking when he outlined his health hints to the Boston Gridiron Club, an assembly of former college stars who are gathering the first adipose of middle age.

Said he, "Coddle your blood vessels. More than firm muscles, it is a man's veins and arteries which determine his condition after 45."

"At that age the well man is the thin man who rises from the dinner table still a little hungry and manages to steal an hour's sleep during the middle of the day."

"Play golf on an empty stomach and never drink quantities of water before eating. Don't try to beat your children at vigorous games. Ultimately they will beat you anyway. Don't go swimming with the slightest head cold, and manage to walk several miles a day."

Lou Little's Demonstration

KNOWING THE FRAILTY OF HUMAN NATURE as well as the importance of parsimony, Dr. Cahill probably did not expect his audience to follow his health regimen.

Old athletes gave a great contempt for caution.

Jim Rice, the former Columbia crew coach, was once hired by a man who had some notions on diet that he wanted to test. He and Jim rowed many miles a day, Jim eating and drinking anything he liked and the party of the second part subsisting on his rigid diet.

But as Jim told me later, nothing was proved by the experiment because the man on the special diet went home one night and died, and that was the end of the test.

Max Beer, in his youth as a pug, was once told a diet was an essential matter of training life, and he hired a food specialist to draw up a menu for him.

When the schedule was prepared, he then hired the dietitian to eat the diet per schedule while he, Maxie, consumed the results.

Maxie, in so to speak, the fellow sucked the food, he said, and it was all right. So that, too, proved nothing.

Maxie, in his youth as a pug, was once told a diet was an essential matter of training life, and he hired a food specialist to draw up a menu for him.

Order of the Double-Cross

NO RIGHT THINKING PERSON CAN CONDONE Jimmy Braddock's violation of contract to meet Max Schmeling in the fight scheduled for New York last night, and over which Max was last seen shaking his noggin and sobbing, "I don't understand it. A contract is a contract."

And so it is. Still it is due to studied obtuseness in the Schmeling cerebellum which prevents him from understanding, since he, himself, romped out of legal fight agreements in the past.

One of these was in 1928 when he refused to keep his engagement at the Boston Garden with the late Ernie Schaaf after his manager had made a contract by telephone and later by a confirming wire with Eddie Mack, then the Garden matchmaker.

Another was his breach of agreement to meet Jack Sharkey a year after winning the championship on his shoulder blades.

And still another was his renounced contract to fight Primo Carnera. And, for extra measure, a fourth was his denial that an American-made pact to pay his manager, Joe Jacobs, one-third of all earnings connected with the prize, was binding for bouts in Nazi Germany, not to mention his desertion of Arthur Brown, who originally imported him to the U. S.

The answer to the query "When is a contract not a contract?" is, "when it affects the bankers of a fighter."

Helpful Hint

LAMENT ON NOTE PAPER WAS RECEIVED by a horse wrangler today, who signs a fictitious name and writes, "I am exhorting the handlers of these upstarts to let me see your $800 in horse during the last week. I paid them for their 'sure fire' selection and didn't win a son, though they guaranteed the winners. I have a small business in Boston which I am about to lose on account of these three toots. I thought of writing the Mayor but decided to see what else you might take regarding the matter."

Enclosed were the usual, colored fling of the horse "wizards," claiming supernatural picking powers—two from the same address at 44 Broadview street and one from the address of the "wizards" claim of the inevitable "under cover" knowledge from the stables.

Unfortunately "lost sheets" and pretensions to marvellous prediction in the heavy probabilities of a race horse's legs, are legal and the only recourse of the bitten better to be, calling the selections pass.

Nor does the above sound "deserve sympathy, being presumably of adult mind, and my advice to him is to do a pair of tight pants and assume an asper position on some downtown corner with a sign on his middle obliquely inviting passers-by to partake of his looking privilege. Gradually the greater ears will merge into repetition, lesser ears and make his original plan indisputable. I trust Mayor Mansfield will consent.

This action shot was taken during a recent bout between the two in Los Angeles last Pastor won easily. The victor had established a reputation for back peddling as a result of his fight with Joe Louis. In this battle, though, Pastor proved he really could punch.

M. G. A.

Sidetracks SCHOOLBOYS

By BILL GRIMES

Back in 1929 George Wright, a veteran sportsman during a trophy for the purpose of it to be interest in golf among the school boys of New England.

The Wright Trophy was first awarded to the Massachusetts Golf Association in 1929. It was a trophy of the Massachusetts Golf Association, which was then the only golf organization in the state.

During the nine years that the Massachusetts Golf Association has had the Wright Trophy, there have been only four New England Intercollegiate championships.

And one of these was in 1928 when he refused to keep his engagement at the Boston Garden with the late Ernie Schaaf after his manager had made a contract by telephone and later by a confirming wire with Eddie Mack, then the Garden matchmaker.

Another was his breach of agreement to meet Jack Sharkey a year after winning the championship on his shoulder blades.

And still another was his renounced contract to fight Primo Carnera. And, for extra measure, a fourth was his denial that an American-made pact to pay his manager, Joe Jacobs, one-third of all earnings connected with the prize, was binding for bouts in Nazi Germany, not to mention his desertion of Arthur Brown, who originally imported him to the U. S.

The answer to the query "When is a contract not a contract?" is, "when it affects the bankers of a fighter."

Scouts Turn Red in Face When Fette Is Mentioned

At last! Lou Fette, from a Mass. boy, is a scout. It is a matter of fact that the scouts of the Massachusetts Scout Council are now in a state of excitement over the possibility of having a scout from the state.

MR. BOSTON

George Shooting
For Danno BoutMaster Fette
Talk of Town

By JACK CONWAY

I HAVE MORE than a passing interest in Ed Don George's latest drive to regain his title as world heavyweight wrestling champion.

I was at the ringside recently when George easily pinned K. O. Koverly and convinced those persons who saw him in action that he is in perfect condition following a world wrestling tour that kept him busy for a year.

At the age of 32 George is physically perfect, while he has acquired the experience one gains by going through the wrestling wars.

I believe Paul Bowser would like to see George top man in the heavyweight division once more.

Bowser made a great deal of money promoting mat contests when George was champion, and he probably believes that with Ed on top again the boom days would return to wrestling.

George's last victory in defeating Gus Sonnenberg only a few months ago was a few months later, Henry DeLane was knocked off Lewis.

George's last victory in defeating DeLane was a few months ago when Frenchman suffered a broken collarbone.

If George wins over Dazzler Clark, the Scotchman, at the Garden a week from tonight, he says he will be prepared to take on Steve Casey, Dan O'Mahony and Yoon Robert.

Personally, I think Ed would rather meet Danno than any other wrestler. It was O'Mahony who stripped George of his title, and the latter would now like to even the score.

Robert will come to Boston to see the George-Clark bout and will be a big attraction for the preliminaries.

Yoon Robert, who was in Boston during the outdoor season, a few months ago, would prove a big attraction if Don should accept the challenge.

LOU FETTE HAS CLASS

THE SENSATIONAL pitching of Lou Fette of the Bees is the talk of the town. Fette has won six of the seven games he has pitched for the Bees this year.

The Pirates are the only club that had beaten Fette, and he adjusted that account yesterday as he pitched the Bees to a 6 to 0 victory over Pittsburgh. The Pirates say Fette is by far the best of the Bees pitchers.

Fette has scored two wins over the Dodgers, while he also has beaten the Cubs, Cardinals, Reds and Pirates. It cannot be charged that Lou is picking his opponents.

Fette is 30 years of age, six feet tall and weighs 190 pounds. He came to the Bees from the St. Paul club of the American Association.

Bob Quinn was personally responsible for Fette coming to the Bees. Bob had followed Fette's pitching during the years he was in the American Association.

When Lou won his first six games last season, Quinn packed his bag and quietly slipped into St. Paul. Before Bob left he had made an agreement with St. Paul under the terms of which Fette was to become the property of the Bees at the end of the season for $20,000 and two players.

Quinn left St. Paul unannounced. When Fette continued to win ball games, the Red Sox, Yankees and Cubs made big offers for Lou.

The St. Paul club didn't inform any of these clubs that it had already made a deal for Fette with Quinn. It felt it might injure baseball interest in St. Paul if it became known before the season closed that Fette was playing his last season in the American Association.

Quinn enjoyed many a good chuckle as he watched rival major league clubs bidding for Fette. Lou ended the season with 25 victories, and then the news cracked that he was the property of the Bees.

It is the second time in Boston baseball history that Bob Quinn has slipped into town to come up with a star player. Ed Morris, big pitcher who used to be with the Sox, was discovered by Quinn in Mobile in the Southern League. Morris became a big league star.

With Lou's big Fette pitch, Quinn's big Morris pitch, the Bees are in a position to win the pennant.

CASEYS BATTLE SAINTS IN SOUTHIE

Halted by the showers last evening, the Boston Park League will swing into action tonight with the entire team performing, with all games carded, to mark the close of the first month of baseball, in the popular after-supper loop.

The boys in the league have been setting a rather terrific pace the past two weeks, and the brief ball in last night's festivities was gladly welcomed by more than one man, who will have just one more twister tonight to bank on, just in case.

The Casey Club-St. Augustine battle at the South Boston Stadium looks like a natural, with the Casey hitting on high, having won 3 and tied 1 in their last six starts.

The Boston Boys, who showed up a little this past week, won their first seven games before losing a defeat, but are now back in shape and plan to whitewash the Bostonians in this, their first battle of the year.

Casey will have Brown on the mound while the boys from the peninsular sector will rely on their ace Ken Cohen.

At Marvella Playground, Rosbury, two rivals will match wits when the Madens and Hanstman meet in what always turns out to be a close battle. Harry McDermott will use either Risher or Brennan, while the Madens will use Tommy or Bear.

Another bitter battle will be staged at Fallon Field with the Wolfe versus the strong team of A. A. Chas. Play. A. A. Chas. will have Jack McCarthy on the mound.

At the Murphy Playground, Jamaica Plain, the last trace of Mass. Knitting Club will enter a Hank Garri's Hyde Park Two Club.

In the other battles scheduled for the evening, Rosbury T. C. will journey to Rogers Park to battle the Civics and Jack in the box Jordan Club will enter a Dave May, while a. A. Chas. will have a. A. Chas. on the mound.

BOSTON after DARK

GEORGE HOLLAND

That's a nice move on the part of Charlie O'Malley (Duke) Lake Saturday night (This Saddy) because of the Boston Evening American columnist's stories sent back from the Emerald Isle.

The dinner is set for the City Club at 6, but if they all down before 9 it will be surprising. Although the list is invitation the best part is that Charlie will stand for no admission fee. The only entrance is a good Irish story. But you've got to tell it at the door first. And the Duke (the old Lafayette end) probably will blush all night.

From the Guy in the Middle:

When Mickey Cochrane fell and writhed in pain after being hit by a pitched ball, the Evening American sportswriter, Freddy Lane, who has known Bump since they both were in three-corned pants, hastened to a wire and told Bump nobody around Lynn thought he meant it. Yesterday, Bump Hadley of Lynn wrote shakily from the Middle West to Freddy, thanking him for the kind word and saying, "I have had many letters and telegrams since the regrettable accident to Mickey and I can tell you that it really means a lot to have such friends express their support in the knowledge that the accident was purely that—believe me Freddy."

The Postman Never Shaves Twice:

Some time last night that the reason Postmaster Peter... (text continues with humorous observations on mail carriers and their interactions with the public).

Once Over Lightly:

Karl Rohde and his Swingers will be the first to take off at Lake Sunapee's Sun Nip Lodge and cottages (N.H.) which has a name band booking all through summer. And another swell orch., that of Billy Brooks, makes a bow at Norumbega Park today in the Tolern Polo Ballroom as the newest local sensation.

Marion Whelan, the reporter's wife who has been exchanging saucy telegrams with the Holland for several days, won't be able to do it for several more because she's just coming out of her second stay on the operating table and the clouds haven't lifted yet. Glenda Farrell writes that she coughed over $150 for a coronation seat and also bought a midsize auto racer. She didn't say whether or not it was a man or car, or if that was the seat.

When a press agent sent word to the L. A. papers that Bing Crosby and Dixie Lee got up early every morning to play tennis, the cynical ed. asked it. Next morning he was out on the tennis court with whom? With Bing Crosby and Dixie Lee. And he came in to work an hour early. And coming back East again, the piano player of a Providence orch. quit recently (one of those arguments) and organized his own band. So the new subway took the bus away from the old one.

At the end of the film, Fredricka (Florence Eldridge) will probably appear in Broadway next season in a new play, following the success of Fred's next Selznick Technicolor film, "Let Me Live." They've signed a playwright to do a new one for them and it will be their last joint venture appearance in nine years. Gertrude Dolan's recent got away from the first of the two (the 2nd in Fri. of next week). The three Holland heirs will be in it. At Repertory Theater.

Frank Tinney's comeback will be in the fall. He's at the N. Y. rest camp and will be Public Council No. 2. Joe Donahue has won No. 1 spot, but if Tinney comes out the brother of the beloved Jack Donahue, then the scene must shift. Frank is said to understand that he was his own worst enemy, and Joe admitted that long ago. When Fred Astaire takes up his new script it will be as a solo. Ginger Rogers is out. And Fred would like to be back with Adele. A sweet team. But an interesting figure for the cost of dancing shoes for Fred and Adele would come out if they'd only get together with the studio sex. It runs into langor and high lilted money.

The "Missus America" film caused complications in Hollywood, because while RKO Radio America was allowed to borrow $100,000 from the company had to promise to return it to the bank from Santa Monica to the South. The band was borrowed for Atlantic City sequences, with Victor Moore and Helen Broderick featured in the flicker. It was well enough bringing one moment in the film to get awfully tired carrying it back again.

'Kid Galahad' Packs Punch At Met

By PEGGY DOYLE

The first scenes in Warner Bros. production of "Kid Galahad" were shown in the Met last night. The picture, which would do credit to any of the great silent pictures, is a story of a man who was a prizefighter and who was killed by a man who was a prizefighter.

Edna Robinson's father is "Kid Galahad," a story of a man who was a prizefighter and who was killed by a man who was a prizefighter. The picture is a story of a man who was a prizefighter and who was killed by a man who was a prizefighter.
